Art Unit: 2142

1. Claims 1-25 are pending.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments, see pages 7-14, filed 6/20/06, with respect to the rejection(s) of claim(s) 1-25 under Cerwall-Marcoccia have been fully considered and are persuasive. Therefore, the rejection has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration, a new ground(s) of rejection is made in view of Cervello.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-25 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory double patenting over claims 1-16 of U. S. Patent No. 6,985,465 B2 since the claims, if allowed, would improperly extend the "right to exclude" already granted in the patent.

The subject matter claimed in the instant application is fully disclosed in the patent and is covered by the patent since the patent and the application are claiming common subject matter, as follows:

('465 B2)	(Application)
1. A method for dynamically selecting a communication channel between an access point (AP) and a plurality of stations (STAs) located within the coverage area of a basic service set (BSS) in a wireless local area network (WLAN), the method comprising the steps of:	22. A system for dynamically selecting a communication channel between an access point (AP) and a plurality of stations (STAs) located within the coverage area of a basic service set (BSS) in a wireless local area network (WLAN), the system comprising a memory for storing a computer-readable code; and, a processor operatively coupled to said memory, said processor configured to:
(a) determining whether a new channel to be used by said plurality of wireless stations is needed;	(1) determine whether a new channel to be used by all of the plural STAS is needed;

(b) requesting, by said AP, a channel signal quality measure to at least one of said plurality of stations;	(2) determine whether a signal from an adjacent BSS is received by said plural STAS;
c) scanning a set of channels available for use by said plurality of stations to determine whether a signal from an adjacent BSS is received;	(3) measure a received signal strength indication (RSSI) and Clear Channel Assessment (CCA) busy periods of all said channels scanned by said plurality of STAS to said AP;
(d) if said adjacent BSS signal is detected, determining a signal quality measure of each channel of said set of channels based on a received signal strength indication (RSSI) and a packet error rate (PER) of all said channels measured by said plurality of stations to said AP; and,	(4) measure an interference level caused by another communication system based on a periodic absence of any 802.11 frame reception for a predetermined time period; and,
(e) selecting said new channel based on said measured RSSI and said PER	(5) select said new channel representing the least interference signal

Furthermore, there is no apparent reason why applicant was prevented from presenting claims corresponding to those of the instant application during prosecution of the application which matured into a patent. See In re Schneller, 397 F.2d 350, 158 USPQ 210 (CCPA 1968). See also MPEP § 804.
